Section 1 — General information about SVQs

Introducing SVQs

The qualification you are undertaking is a Scottish Vocational Qualification (SVQ).

SVQs are work-based qualifications which assess the skills and knowledge people have and need to perform their job role effectively. The qualifications are designed using National Occupational Standards.

For each industry sector there is a Sector Skills Council (SSC) which is made up of representatives from the industry or profession and it is the SSC's responsibility to develop the National Occupational Standards.

These standards define what employees, or potential employees, must be able to do, how well and in what circumstances to show they are competent in their work.

The Sector Skills Council for Construction Management level 5 is: ConstructionSkills.

Access to SVQs is open to all and you can be assessed either against a particular Unit(s) or against the full SVQ. There are no entry requirements, no prescribed method of delivery, and no time constraints for completion or age limits.

SVQs are available at five levels of achievement which reflect the various technical and supervisory skills, knowledge, and experience which employees should have as they progress in their industry.

Who offers SVQs?

An organisation which offers SVQs is called a centre. This may be a school, college, university, employer, training provider or a combination of these. The centre has responsibility for the quality of the qualification and is required to work within an awarding body's policies and guidelines.

The Scottish Qualifications Authority (SQA) is your awarding body for this SVQ. This means that we are an organisation approved by government to design qualifications and awards. An awarding body endorses candidates' certificates so that an employer can be sure the qualification has gone through a rigorous and effective assessment process. SQA provides qualifications throughout the world and was formed by the merger of the Scottish Examinations Board (SEB) and the Scottish Vocational Education Council (SCOTVEC).

What is the structure of an SVQ?

All SVQs have a common structure and consist of standards which can be broken down into various parts:

Units and Elements	Units define the broad functions carried out in your particular job and are made up of a number of Elements . Each Element describes a specific work activity which you have to perform and may relate to skills or to the demonstration of knowledge and understanding.
Performance Criteria	The level and quality of how you should carry out these activities is determined by a number of statements called Performance Criteria . Performance Criteria are used to judge your competence.
Range/Scope Statements	A Range Statement tells you in what circumstances you must be able to prove your competence and allows you to demonstrate that you can carry out tasks in different circumstances. Items included in the range statements must not be treated as optional. Range Statements are also called scope in some National Occupational Standards.
Evidence Requirements	The Evidence Requirements specify the amount and type of evidence which you will need to provide to your assessor to show that you have met the standards specified in the Performance Criteria and in all the circumstances defined in the range statements.
Knowledge and Understanding	The section on Knowledge and Understanding states what you must know and understand and how this knowledge applies to your job.

If you are not yet clear about how we define standards — just remember that the standards have been developed by experts within your industry or profession and that all candidates aiming for this particular SVQ are being assessed against the same standards.

You will find an example of an SVQ Element overleaf.

An example of an SVQ Element

UNIT: (1) Working safely in an engineering environment

This is the UNIT title — it describes a role and task.

Element 1 Comply with statutory regulations and organisational requirements +

Performance Criteria

standard of performance you need todemonstrate consistently to claim competence ina particular Element.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA set out the

You must ensure that you:

- 1 Describe your duties and obligations (as an individual) under the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974.
- 2 Comply with Statutory Regulations at all times.
- 3 Comply with organisational safety policies and procedures at all times.

Range

This means you need to cover:

1 Relevant sections of the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 (eg with regard to your duties to work in a safe manner, not to interfere with remove or misuse equipment provided for the safety of yourself and others, not to endanger others by your acts or omissions).

The RANGE defines the various circumstances in which you must be able to prove you are competent.

You must cover all of the items in the Range Statement.

This is the ELEMENT title. It describes part of the main role and task.

Evidence Requirements

The things you must prove that you can do:

You need to demonstrate that you understand your duties and obligations under both statutory regulations and organisational requirements and you can do this by:

- 1 Giving an adequate explanation of the duties and responsibilities of every individual as described in the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974.
- 2 Ensuring that whilst carrying out your work and/or visiting other areas of the working environment you are aware of the specific safety requirements and regulations governing your activities.

Knowledge and Understanding

You must prove that you know and understand:

- 1 The roles and responsibilities of your self and others under the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974.
- 2 The general regulations that apply to you being at work.
- 3 The specific regulations which govern your work activities.

The KNOWLEDGE AND UNDERSTANDING Requirements state what you must know and understand and how this knowledge applies to your job.

How are SVQs achieved?

When you consistently meet the standards described in the elements and show that you have the required skills and knowledge across the range, you can then claim that you are competent in each Unit. You can claim certification for single Units or whole awards. Your centre will register your claim to competence through the awarding body. The awarding body you are registered with for this SVQ is the Scottish Qualifications Authority (SQA).

Scottish Qualifications Authority The Optima Building 58 Robertson Street Glasgow G2 8DQ

The process of gaining an SVQ is flexible and depends on your needs. At the beginning of the process your assessor will review your existing competence in relation to the standards and identify the most suitable SVQ. The level you start at will depend on the type and breadth of your current job role together with your past experience, skills and any relevant prior learning.

To achieve an SVQ, or a Unit of an SVQ, you must:

• Demonstrate you meet the requirements of the Performance Criteria by collecting appropriate evidence as specified by the Evidence Requirements. This evidence is assessed against the national standards by a qualified assessor, who will be allocated to you by your centre. This will usually be someone who knows you, such as a manager or supervisor.

Evidence may come from:

- the accreditation of prior learning where evidence relates to past experience or achievements
- current practice where evidence is generated from a current job role
- a programme of development where evidence comes from assessment opportunities built into a learning/training programme whether at or away from the workplace
- a combination of these

How are SVQs assessed?

Assessment is based on what you can do and involves you, your assessor, an internal verifier and an external verifier — see 'Who does what in SVQs' on the following page.

You will be asked to prove you are competent by providing evidence which shows:

- you can perform all the specified tasks consistently to the required standard (Performance Criteria)
- you understand why you are doing things (Knowledge and Understanding)
- you can apply the required skills in different ways (Range)

Assessment is flexible and you can be certificated for each Unit you successfully achieve, even if you do not complete the full SVQ. There is no set period of time in which you need to complete a Unit. However, you and your assessor should still set target dates for completing each Unit, otherwise your qualification could go on forever. Be realistic though, as there are many factors such as your previous experience, demands within your workplace and an availability of resources which will affect how quickly you are able to achieve the qualification.

Who does what in SVQs?

A number of individuals and organisations have parts to play in SVQ assessment. Their roles have been designed to guarantee fair, accurate and consistent assessment.

	Who are they?	What is their role?
Candidates	The person who wants to achieve the SVQ — in this case, you.	Need to show they can perform to National Occupational Standards in order to be awarded an SVQ or Unit(s).
Assessors*	An experienced person in the same area of work as the candidate eg supervisor.	Judge the evidence of a candidate's performance, knowledge and understanding against the National Occupational Standards. Decide whether the candidate has demonstrated competence. Provide guidance and support to the candidate. Assist with planning assessments, giving feedback and recording candidate progress.
Internal Verifiers*	Individuals appointed by an approved centre to ensure the quality of assessment within the centre.	Advise assessors and maintain the quality of assessment in a centre. Systematically sample assessments to confirm the quality and
Approved Centres	Organisations approved by awarding bodies to coordinate assessment arrangements for SVQs.	<ul> <li>consistency of assessment decisions.</li> <li>Manage assessment on a day to day basis.</li> <li>Must have effective assessment practices and internal verification procedures.</li> <li>Must meet criteria laid down by awarding bodies and be able to provide sufficiently-competent assessors and internal verifiers.</li> </ul>
External Verifiers*	Individuals appointed by the awarding body to ensure that standards are being applied uniformly and consistently across all centres offering the SVQ.	Check the quality and consistency of assessments, both within and between centres, by systematic sampling. Make regular visits to centres to ensure they still meet the criteria to deliver SVQs.

* Assessors and internal and external verifiers are required to have occupational expertise in the SVQs which they are assessing/verifying. They must also have, or be working towards, an appropriate qualification in assessment and verification.

What is evidence?

To claim competence for an SVQ Unit you need to gather evidence which shows you have met the standards. It is important that your evidence is easily understood so that it can be checked against the standards, by both your assessor, your centre and the awarding body.

Evidence can take many forms including:

- direct observation of your performance by your assessor
- products of your work
- ♦ authenticated statement witness testimony
- personal statement
- outcomes from questioning
- outcomes from simulation
- case studies
- assignments or projects
- Accreditation of Prior Learning (APL) evidence from the past

It is important that your evidence is:

- valid it relates to the SVQ standard you are trying to prove
- authentic the evidence, or an identified part of it (eg a report) was produced by you
- consistent achieved on more than one occasion
- current usually not more than two years old
- sufficient covers all the performance and knowledge requirements laid down in the standards

Your evidence may be collected through a range of sources, such as employment, voluntary work, training programmes and interests/activities which you perform outside your work. It can also be produced in various formats, eg your own reports; testimonies from colleagues, supervisors or members of the public; projects; models; audio tapes, photographs; videos.

When you first begin your SVQ, you and your assessor should identify all the Units and Elements where you can use integration of assessment. Further details about integration of assessment can be found on page 10.

Demonstrating knowledge, understanding and skills

In order to meet the standards, you may also be required to prove knowledge and understanding. Each Unit contains a list summarising the knowledge, understanding and skills a candidate must possess. Evidence of how these have been achieved and applied could be included in the performance evidence as one or all of the following:

- descriptions of why a particular approach was used
- personal reports about the learning process
- reflective reports which include how a theory or principle was applied
- assessment interviews
- ♦ assessment tests
- responses to questioning

These should be included in your portfolio.

How will my assessor check I have the knowledge and understanding listed in the standards?

For some Units, it will be clear to your assessor that you have the required knowledge and understanding from how you carry out your work. This is often referred to as knowledge and understanding apparent from performance. There will be other occasions though, when your assessor will be unsure if you know why, for example, it is important to give information to clients in certain situations. This could be because your assessor has not had the opportunity to observe all the Performance Criteria and Range during assessment. In these situations, your assessor may wish to assess your knowledge and understanding by asking you some questions. These questions can be given orally or in writing, but will be recorded in your portfolio as evidence.

Your assessor could also check you have the required level of knowledge and understanding by asking you to produce personal statements or to complete a project or assignment.

What if I have previous experience and knowledge and understanding from work and other qualifications?

If you have previous work experience, skills, and knowledge and understanding which you feel is relevant to your SVQ, you should tell your assessor about it. Your assessor may ask you for more proof in the form of letters from previous employers/training providers or details about any courses you have completed.

For example, you may have achieved an HNC in a relevant subject in which case your assessor may feel that you already have some of the knowledge and understanding required for the SVQ.

The process of matching your previous experience and learning is often referred to as the Accreditation of Prior Learning (APL). The purpose of this process is to try and give you some credit towards your SVQ for things you can already do to the national standard. Your assessor judges the evidence available and matches it against the requirements of the SVQ. This means that your assessor should not have to assess you for these things all over again.

However, the success of this process depends on you telling your assessor what previous work experience or knowledge and understanding you have and how you think it is relevant to your SVQ. The more information you can supply to support your claims, the easier it should be to convince your assessor that you are competent.

When can simulation be used?

Throughout your SVQ, the emphasis is on you being able to carry out real work activities so assessment will normally be carried out in the workplace itself.

There may be times, however, when it might not be appropriate for you to be assessed while you are working. For example your SVQ might require you to carry out emergency or contingency procedures (for safety or confidentiality reasons) or your job role may not cover all aspects of the qualification. In such instances, when you have no other means of generating evidence, simulation might be appropriate.

Simulation is any structured exercise involving a specific task which reproduces real-life situations. Care must be taken though to ensure that the conditions in which you are assessed exactly mirror the work environment ie it is a realistic working environment.

You and your assessor should check the assessment strategy for your SVQ carefully to find out the Sector Skills Council (SSC's) view of what constitutes a realistic working environment. Some SSCs stipulate the specific elements which are suitable for this approach.

Integration of assessment

It is not necessary for you to have each Element assessed separately — doing so could result in assessment which takes too long and places too great a burden on you and your assessor.

There will be instances when you will be able to use one piece of evidence to prove your competence across different Elements or Performance Criteria. You may even find that evidence is relevant for different Units — this is called integration of assessment.

When you first begin your SVQ, you and your assessor will spend time looking at the standards, planning how much time you are both able to devote to the qualification and drawing up an action plan.

At this stage, you should identify any activities which relate to more than one Unit or Outcome and arrange for the best way to collect a single piece of evidence which satisfactorily covers all the Performance Criteria.

If you are going to integrate assessments, make sure that the evidence is cross-referenced to the relevant Units. Details of how to cross reference your evidence can be found in Section 2 'How to compile your portfolio'.

Section 2 — How to compile your portfolio (including worked examples)

General information

A portfolio, like a log book, is a way of recording evidence of your achievements. It is a collection of different items of evidence which indicates that you have the required skills, knowledge and understanding to support your claim to a qualification.

The production of a well-organised, clearly labelled portfolio which relates each piece of evidence to the relevant outcomes and Performance Criteria requires a careful methodical approach. When your assessor looks through your portfolio, they will find the task of making judgements about your competence much easier if the information in it is presented in a logical sequence.

You will need to present your evidence in a format that is easy to read and in which materials can be added or taken away. This section gives suggestions on how to lay out and present your evidence and includes worked examples. There are also forms and matrices which will assist you to chart your progress through the award.

You do not have to lay out your evidence in the way suggested but you may find it helpful to do so. Each portfolio will be different in content but all should include information about you (the candidate), the organisation where you are undertaking your qualification, the assessor and so on.

Evidence Collection Process

Planning your portfolio

Start by carefully reading through the standards and, together with your assessor, decide which Units you might like to work on first. You do not have to do the Units in order. There may be some Units that relate to tasks which you carry out on a regular basis, therefore making it easier to collect evidence right away. Alternatively, there may be activities in other Units which you only undertake now and again, these can be left until the opportunity arises for you to collect evidence.

Before you start looking for different kinds of evidence and deciding if they should be included in your portfolio, you will find it helpful to plan how you will carry out the tasks and how long they are going to take.

The plan is usually referred to as an 'assessment plan'. It should be produced in discussion with your assessor and will set out the different stages in developing your portfolio. You will probably want to produce a plan for each Unit.

It is unlikely that you will be able to complete all of the Units straight away and you should therefore think about starting with those Units where you have a lot of experience and in which you work well. You should also remember to identify any opportunities for integration of assessment.

We have provided you with a 'Unit progress record' — see Example 2. Each time you complete a Unit, your assessor should sign and date the relevant section on the form. At this stage, it might be a good idea to check that all your evidence and recording documents have been completed correctly and can easily be located. You can then circle the reference number of that Unit in the checkboxes at the top of the form so that you can see at a glance what stage you are at in your SVQ.

Starting your portfolio

Make sure that you clearly label your portfolio (or disk if you are recording your evidence electronically) with your name together with the title and level of the award.

Your portfolio will need a title page and a contents page. You should also complete a Personal Profile which records details about yourself and your job as well as providing information about your employer, training provider or college. Blank samples of these forms are provided in Section 4.

We recommend that you compile your portfolio in the following order:

Contents checklist

You might also find it useful to complete the following checklist as you work your way through your portfolio. This will help you to see if you have included all the relevant items. Once you have completed your portfolio, you will be able to use this checklist again as a contents page, by inserting the relevant page or section numbers in the right hand column.

Collecting your evidence

All of the evidence which you collect and present for assessment must be relevant to your SVQ. Your assessor will help you choose which pieces of evidence you should include.

We have provided blank forms in Section 4 of this document, which you can photocopy to help you record and present your evidence. Although we have provided you with sample forms, your centre may have their own recording documents which they would prefer you to use.

Some of these forms eg observation records and the record of questions and answers, will be completed by your assessor. Other forms (witness testimonies) will be used by people other than your assessor to testify that they have observed you doing your job, and there is one for you to complete called a personal statement.

Explanations are given below about how and when these forms should be used.

Observation record (Example 5)

The observation record is used by your assessor to record what tasks you have performed and to what standard. There is also a section for your assessor to note which other Units or Outcomes are covered by this evidence ('integration of assessment').

The assessor will discuss with you which Performance Criteria and Range you have successfully achieved and give you feedback. This form should then be given a reference number and included in your portfolio as part of your evidence.

Witness testimony (Example 6)

There may be occasions when your assessor is not available to observe you carrying out certain aspects of your job. In such instances, it may be appropriate for another person to comment about your performance by completing a statement called a 'witness testimony'.

Witness testimony should only be used as supporting evidence and should:

- be provided by a person, not related to you, who is in a position to make a valid comment about your performance eg supervisor, line manager or possibly a client/customer
- contain comments which specifically relate your performance to the standards
- be authenticated by the inclusion of the witness's signature, role, address, telephone number and the date

It is unlikely that your assessor would make an assessment decision based on witness testimony alone. They would normally supplement this type of evidence with questioning.

Record of questions and candidate's answers (Example 7)

This form is used to record any questions which your assessor may ask, to establish whether you have the required level of Knowledge and Understanding associated with each Unit. There is also space on the form for your answers to be noted.

Personal statement (Example 4)

There will be times when you need to put a piece of your evidence in context for your assessor so that they can decide if it is relevant to your SVQ. You can complete personal statements to help you do this — these can relate either to the pieces of evidence or to each Outcome or Unit.

For example, you may refer to paperwork which is often used in your organisation to help you pass on information to a colleague. It may not be clear to an assessor why you are communicating to your colleague in this way and a brief explanation of the paperwork and why it is relevant to a particular part of your SVQ may be required.

A personal statement might also be used to record your experience of something, such as, how you handled a specific situation. This can be documented in your personal statement and should be a description of what you did, how you did it and why you did it. It will also allow you to include the people who were present and either assisted you or witnessed your actions. This, in turn, might identify who you should approach for 'witness testimony'. In your personal statement you could also refer to product evidence that you have produced (eg reports, notes, completed forms), these can also be included as evidence in your portfolio.

The personal statement can be a piece of evidence in itself and should therefore be included in your portfolio.

Presenting your evidence

It is important to present all of your evidence in a clear, consistent and legible manner. Your assessor will then find it much easier to make appropriate judgements about the quality, sufficiency and currency of the materials you are putting forward for consideration.

It is not necessary to produce all of your evidence in typewritten format — some hand-written pieces of evidence, such as notes, will be perfectly acceptable.

There may also be items of evidence which you cannot physically include in your portfolio. This might be for confidentiality reasons or it could be that something which you have produced as part of your day-to-day work is normally kept in a filing cabinet or stored electronically in a PC.

In compiling your portfolio, we suggest that anything you produce as part of your day-to-day work is kept in its normal location, but those pieces of evidence which have been produced specifically for your SVQ, eg witness testimony statements or personal statements, are filed in your portfolio. However, assessors and verifiers should be able to locate and access your evidence at all times. It is, therefore, very important that you clearly reference every item of evidence.

Referencing your evidence

Your assessor, as well as the internal and external verifiers, will need to find their way around your portfolio, so you should give each piece of evidence a number.

Remember, that where you have used 'integration of assessment', you need to give details of all the Units and Elements which are linked to a specific piece of evidence. The links should be noted on the pieces of evidence themselves as well as on the index of evidence (cross-referencing).

How to complete the Index of evidence (Example 1)

You should complete an index of evidence sheet and file it immediately before the actual pieces of evidence in your portfolio.

The index of evidence should be completed by:

- entering the evidence number in the first column
- giving a brief description of each piece of evidence in the second column
- explaining where the evidence can be found in the third column

You must make sure that the information contained in the evidence index is accurate when you give your portfolio to your assessor, particularly in relation to where the evidence can be located.

Completing the Element Achievement Records (Example 3)

There is an Element Achievement Record for every Element within this portfolio. These records have been designed to allow you to record the evidence you have gathered for each Element. Each record has boxes across it which represents the Performance Criteria, Range Statement, Evidence Requirements and Knowledge and Understanding statement, these will differ from Element to Element so it is important to make sure you are using the right one. Whilst collecting your evidence you should use these grids to display the Performance Criteria, Range, Knowledge and Understanding and Evidence Requirement that piece of evidence relates to. In the first box write the evidence index number you have given to that piece of evidence. In the second box give a brief description of the evidence, then tick against the relevant Performance Criteria, Range, Evidence Requirements and Knowledge and Understanding.

Worked examples

To give you a clearer picture of how to compile your portfolio, you will find worked examples of the various forms over the next few pages. You should ask your assessor for further advice and support if you are still unsure about how to use the forms and who should complete them.

Glossary of terms

Advisor	A person who carries out, either singly or in combination, the functions of advising a candidate, collecting evidence of his or her competence on behalf of the assessor and authenticating the work candidates have undertaken. A mentor might also provide witness testimony.
Assessment	The process of generating and collecting evidence of a candidate's performance and judging that evidence against defined criteria.
Assessor	The person designated in a centre to be responsible for collecting evidence of candidates' competence, judging it and recording achievement.
Authentication	The process by which an advisor or assessor confirms that an assessment has been undertaken by a candidate and that all regulations governing the assessment have been observed.
Candidate	The person enrolling for an SQA qualification.
Centre	The college, training organisation or workplace where SQA qualifications are delivered and assessed.
Element of competence	Statements which define the products of learning. The statements describe the activities that the candidate needs to perform in order to achieve the Unit. They contain Performance Criteria and sometimes statements on range and evidence. (see Outcome)
Evidence	Materials the candidate has to provide as proof of his or her competence against specified Performance Criteria.
Evidence requirements	Specify the evidence that must be gathered to show that the candidate has met the standards laid down in the Performance Criteria.
External verifier	The person appointed by the SQA who is responsible for the quality assurance of a centre's provision. An external verifier is often appointed on a subject area basis or for cognate groups of Units.
Instrument of assessment	A means of generating evidence of the candidate's performance.
Internal verifier	The person appointed from within the centre who ensures that assessors apply the standards uniformly and consistently.
Observation	A means of assessment in which the candidate is observed carrying out tasks that reflect the Performance Criteria given in Outcomes.
Outcome	Statement which defines the products of learning. They describe the activities the candidate has to perform to achieve the Unit, and contain Performance Criteria, and, sometimes, statements on range and evidence (see Elements of Competence).
Performance Criteria	Statements which describe the standard to which candidates must perform the activities which are stated in the Outcome.

Portfolio	A compilation of evidence which can form the basis for assessment. The portfolio is commonly used in SVQ awards and in alternative routes to assessment such as APL and credit transfer.
Product evaluation	A means of assessment which enables the quality of a product produced by the candidate, rather than the process of producing it, to be evaluated.
Range/Scope	A statement in the Unit which specifies the different contexts in which the activities described in the Outcome have to be demonstrated. Where they appear, Range/Scope statements are mandatory.

This Unit has the following Elements:

CCM5/C02.1	Assess and evaluate risks and opportunities of projects
CCM5/C02.2	Select methods and procedures to manage project risks and opportunities
CCM5/C02.3	Establish and maintain project organisation and communication systems
CCM5/C02.4	Select and form work teams
CCM5/C02.5	Chair meetings

Unit Summary

This Core Unit covers the candidate's key responsibilities in assessing and managing the risks and opportunities of projects. (Risks in this Unit do not relate primarily to health, safety and welfare and environment, which are covered in Unit C01, but to the key project parameters of cost, quality and time.) The Unit also covers responsibility for your organisation and communication systems.

Element 2.1 is about identifying and evaluating the risks and opportunities inherent in potential projects.

Element 2.2 is about deciding what methods and procedures must be used to manage the project risks and opportunities, and also what resources the project activities will need.

Element 2.3 deals with running the project organisation and ensuring good communications. The 'organisation' could be the candidate's office/department, or an on-site project.

Element 2.4 covers choosing the project work teams. This could apply to departmental personnel, or to site teams.

Element 2.5 is about chairing meetings effectively; controlling people, achieving objectives, and disseminating information.

This Unit has the following Elements:

- CCM5/O06.1 Identify investigation requirements
- CCM5/O06.2 Confirm legislation requirements and constraints
- CCM5/O06.3 Agree project cost strategies

Unit Summary

This Optional Unit coves the candidate's key responsibilities for assessing the feasibility of project opportunities, and for deciding whether or not to pursue them. This Unit is particularly applicable to projects involving partnering arrangements.

Element 6.1 is about deciding what research is needed to gather the necessary information — eg for making decisions; and for managing the investigations. This is likely to include the basic project data and context.

Element 6.2 covers the legal context of proposed projects, and obtaining the necessary information — eg on planning and environmental issues — for making decisions.

Element 6.3 is about researching the cost strategy options for project opportunities, evaluating all the information gathered, and deciding whether or not to go ahead.

Element O06.1 Identify investigation requirements

Performance Criteria

This involves:

- (a) identifying the factors for investigation that may be significant for the planned development by examining data, setting up and facilitating discussions and meetings
- (b) selecting the critical aspects of both the site and the surrounding areas which require investigation and prioritising them
- (c) agreeing the priorities for investigation, an accurate estimate of the time and costs involved, and summarising both the priorities and estimates in an investigation brief
