SECTION 1 — PROSE — 40 marks

Read the following passage carefully, including the English sections, and then translate all the Latin sections into English.

A Near-Death Experience for Alexander the Great

On a hot day, king Alexander the Great decided to take a refreshing bath in a river in Cilicia.

tunc aestas erat, cuius calor semper Ciliciae oram vapore solis accendit, et diei fervidissimum tempus esse coeperat. pulvere simul ac sudore perfusum regem invitavit liquor fluminis, ut calidum adhuc corpus ablueret. itaque veste deposita in conspectu agminis — decorum quoque futurum esse ratus, si ostendisset suis levi et parabili cultu corporis se esse contentum — 5 descendit in flumen.

The sudden coldness of the river however had an adverse effect on him.

vixque ingressi subito horrore artus rigere coeperunt, pallor deinde suffusus est et totum propemodum corpus vitalis calor liquit. ministri eum, expiranti similem, manu excipiunt nec satis compotem mentis in tabernaculum deferunt.

His attendants believed he had died and began to lament.

ingens sollicitudo et paene iam luctus in castris erat. flentes querebantur, in tanto impetu 10 cursuque rerum, omnis aetatis ac memoriae clarissimum regem non in acie saltem, non ab hoste deiectum esse, sed abluentem aqua corpus ereptum et extinctum esse.

The Kidnapping of Proserpina

While gathering flowers in a wood, the young goddess Proserpina was kidnapped by the love-struck god of the Underworld.

quo dum Proserpina luco

ludit et aut violas aut candida lilia carpit, dumque puellari studio calathosque sinumque implet et aequales certat superare legendo,

5 paene simul visa est dilectaque raptaque Diti:

usque adeo est properatus amor

Proserpina's kidnapper managed to carry her away in his horse-drawn chariot.

raptor agit currus et nomine quemque vocando

exhortatur equos, quorum per colla iubasque

excutit obscura tinctas ferrugine habenas.
